

James Mitchell III

Director of Construction Serv. Spaulding Construction Services

Spaulding Investment Co., Inc., Burlington, has formed Spaulding Construction Services.

Andrew Spaulding, president, said "We are well established in the property management area of commercial real estate and the creation of this separate division is a logical next step in diversifying the services we offer." The company has named JAMES MITCHELL III director of construction services. He brings to Spaulding Construction a wealth of construction expertise and the qualities to continue the growth of this separate division. Mitchell has over 18 years' experience in the construction field.
