McCann of Optimum Hotel brokers sale of 174-room Crown Plaza Hotel

January 20, 2010 - Front Section

Optimum Hotel Brokerage has advised on the sale of the Crowne Plaza Enfield Springfield. The specifics of the sale were not disclosed. The 174-room full service hotel occupies a prominent and highly visible exit location on I-91, north of Hartford and near Bradley International Airport.

The full-service hotel was purchased by a California-based owner and operator.

The Crowne Plaza Enfield Springfield features an outdoor pool, full service restaurant and lounge, extensive banquet and meeting space, and a business center.

Joe McCann, president of Optimum Hotel Brokerage, had been engaged as the exclusive licensed Conn. real estate broker in a lengthy two-year marketing of the property. The new owners plan to convert the property to a full service Holiday Inn.

"The hotel had been suffering from some challenging financial and market conditions that placed the property in distress," said McCann. "After a lengthy and involved marketing process, the transaction was aided with cooperation from the franchisor and lender. 2009 has been a challenging year in the lodging industry, but we believe that 2010 will be a period of recovery in the sector. Optimum Hotel Brokerage is busy working with owners, lenders and special servicers in finding creative solutions in marketing and selling their distressed hotel assets in the Northeast and New England regions," McCann said.
