Haverhill Bank breaks ground for new branch in 22,000 s/f retail plaza in Salem, N.H. - Projected opening in November

September 05, 2013 - Northern New England

Salem, N.H. town officials, contractors and business leaders joined Haverhill Bank executives and staff at the groundbreaking for the bank's new branch. Groundbreaking came upon receipt of approvals from all state and federal bank regulatory agencies.

Haverhill Bank is joining CVS and three other retail stores in a 22,000 s/f retail plaza along Rte. 97 at the Methuen, Mass. and Salem, N.H. border. The branch opening is expected to take place in November.

"Haverhill Bank has developed a unique local focus that is expected to be welcomed by residents and businesses alike in the Salem, N.H., Atkinson, N.H. and Methuen, Mass. markets that will be served by the new branch," said Haverhill Bank president and CEO Thomas Mortimer. "As a community bank for more than 135 years, Haverhill Bank has been part of the communities it serves and looks forward to becoming involved in these communities as well."
