

nerej

Boston Architectural College fall 2009 course schedule revised

October 27, 2009 - Spotlights

The Boston Architectural College (BAC) announces its online sustainable design courses for the Fall 2009 Semester Second Session. The courses are part of the BAC's Graduate Sustainable Design Certificate Program, developed in partnership with BuildingGreen, and are part of the most comprehensive sustainable design curriculum in the country. Registration is now open.

Instructors are building industry experts. All courses are online, instructor-led, interactive, asynchronous and limited to 15 students each.

The courses are offered at the graduate level and earn 1.5 credits.

Learn more (and register) at www.the-bac.edu/green.

Fall 2009 Second Session: November 2nd - December 22nd

Sustainable Design as a Way of Thinking

The Economics of Green Building NEW

The Urgent and Hopeful Future of Sustainable Design NEW

Sustainable Design of Healthcare Facilities NEW

Solar Energy: Design with the Sun

The Zero Energy Home: What, How and If

Green Residential Remodeling and Renovation

Greening Existing Buildings NEW

Green Practice: Energy and Air Quality Principles

Materials, Resources, and Indoor Environmental Quality

Lighting the Built Environment: Daylighting and State-of-the-Art Electric Lighting NEW

Environmental Systems (Prerequisites)

Sustainable Communities: Land Use, Transportation and Planning

High Performance Design and the LEED Rating System (Prerequisites)

New England Real Estate Journal - 17 Accord Park Drive #207, Norwell MA 02061 - (781) 878-4540