The RCA-MA was chartered by the National Association of Realtors in 2001 as the only commercial overlay Board in Massachusetts, and expanded statewide in 2008. Commercial overlay boards were first allowed by the National Association of Realtors in 1993, and this type of Board serves commercial real estate professionals and overlays the jurisdiction of residential boards of Realtors. The benefits of membership in RCA-MA are:

- *Regular networking meetings and education sessions, including a "Haves & Wants" Marketing Session, whereby members and guests in an open forum discuss their listings as well as the preferences of investors with whom they're working;
- *Discounted participation fees in the MassCIE, a commercial real estate property listing service powered by Catylist;
- *A quarterly e-newsletter designed specifically for commercial real estate practitioners in Massachusetts;
- *Information on educational opportunities for commercial real estate practitioners;
- *Use of NAR's red "Commercial Real Estate" Realtor logo on business cards and marketing materials;
- *Leadership opportunities and the ability to serve on committees and network at the Massachusetts Association of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors meetings and conferences;
- *Member-only access to RcaMA.com, MaRealtor.com, and Realtor.org, the official websites of the RCA-MA and the Massachusetts and National associations of Realtors; and,
- *Access to the benefits of Realtor membership including national and statewide lobbying efforts, discounts, and communication services, Legal and Technology hotlines, an alternative dispute resolution system, and more.

RCA-MA is headquartered in Chelmsford and has its own charter and bylaws as well as representation to the Massachusetts and National associations of Realtors. The term Realtor is a trademark for use exclusively by members of the National Association of Realtors, with offices in Chicago and Washington, D.C.
