Derek Allen of RF Walsh Collaborative Partners achieves LEED GA certification

March 25, 2010 - Green Buildings

Project manager Derek Allen for RF Walsh Collaborative Partners has earned the Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) Green Associate (GA) certification.

"We are proud that Derek is now a LEED GA," said Jack Hobbs, president and CEO of RF Walsh Collaborative Partners. "Creating sustainable, more efficient buildings is imperative to achieve greater value for our clients."

RF Walsh Collaborative has spent 30 years serving a variety of industries, including healthcare, life sciences, education, and commercial and residential real estate.

Achieving this certification, Allen will bring his LEED expertise to a variety of client projects and help RF Walsh Collaborative Partners with its efforts to promote and enhance sustainability among its projects.

Allen is certified for the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Environmental Review.
