Wood, McCostlin, Cleary and Losi of UGL Equis broker 19,500 s/f lease

May 12, 2010 - Front Section

Jackson Lewis has expanded its fourth floor space and renewed its lease at 75 Park Place.

The firm increased its leased office space to a total of 19,500 rentable s/f, according to Christopher Wood, senior vice president and managing director of UGL Equis, who represented Jackson Lewis in negotiations. Wood was assisted by senior associate Adam McCostlin, senior vice president Robert Cleary and associate Derek Losi.

The Druker Company Ltd. of Boston, the recorded property owner, was self-represented by Harold Dennis.

The 122,000 s/f office property, located between the Financial District and the Back Bay section of the city, is a class A building constructed in 1984.

"We were able to secure significant lease flexibility, good market concessions and a generous Tenant Improvement package for our client," said Chris Wood.

Final terms of the lease agreement were not divulged.
