Olson and Levendusky of CBRE broker 3 leases totaling 35,200 s/f

May 12, 2010 - Spotlights

CB Richard Ellis/New England has arranged three leases totaling 35,200 s/f at Burlington Centre, a 600,000 s/f master-planned office park. The firm facilitated a 16,014 s/f renewal and expansion with Click Software; a 14,596 s/f renewal and expansion with Lockheed Martin; and a 4,663 s/f renewal with United Fuels, all at 35 Corporate Dr.

The CBRE team of Kerry Olson, vice president, and Jason Levendusky, first vice president, represented ownership Multi-Employer Property Trust in all three transactions; the team also represented United Fuels in its renewal on the first floor of 35 Corporate Dr., a four-story, 120,000 s/f office building home to many of the park's high-technology tenants.

"Burlington Centre is one of the premier office parks in the Rte. 128 North submarket," said CBRE's Olson. "It offers excellent access to Rte. 128, an 80-acre campus setting and abundant tenant amenities and we're excited to see three tenants remain - and expand - within the park."

Click Software, a leading provider of service optimization solutions, was represented by Brian Morrissey, assistant vice president at Jones Lang LaSalle. Lockheed Martin, an advanced technology company, was represented by Dan Kollar, assistant vice president also of Jones Lang LaSalle.
