August 12, 2010 - Financial Digest

Bristol County Savings Bank (BCSB) was recently recognized by the Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency for being ranked the Number One Lender in Bristol County for First Mortgage Production in 2009. Mark Moreira, secondary marketing and investor relations manager, and Jennifer Banks-Oldfield, a mortgage consultant, received the award on behalf of the Bank from Thomas R. Gleason, the executive director of MassHousing.

The Massachusetts Housing Finance Agency (MHFA) is an independent, quasi-public agency created in 1966 and charged with providing financing for affordable housing in Massachusetts. The agency raises capital by selling bonds and lends the proceeds to low and moderate-income homebuyers and homeowners, and to developers who build or preserve affordable and/or mixed-income rental housing. MHFA does not use taxpayer dollars to sustain its operations, although it administers some publicly funded programs on behalf of the Commonwealth. Since its inception, MHFA has provided more than $5.6 billion for rental housing and more than $4.8 billion for homeownership. For more information, visit the MHFA website at www.masshousing.com.
