Lehane joins Consigli Const. as project manager

September 15, 2010 - Construction Design & Engineering

John Lehane has joined Consigli Construction Co., Inc. as a project manager, bringing with him more than 10 years of construction management and estimating experience with multi-million dollar projects.

Lehane will be responsible for planning, management, and implementation of all activities and procedures on projects from pre-construction through closeout. He is project manager for the Claire T. Carney Library addition and renovation at UMass Dartmouth.

Notable local project experience includes pre-construction and construction management for the LEED Gold Certified student housing, New Ashdown House, for MIT, and the new 14-story Piano Row Residence Hall and Campus Center for Emerson College. Lehane's work also includes the $500 million, 1.7 million s/f Boston Convention and Exhibition Center and the $120 million, 450,000 s/f FBI Crime Laboratory for the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Quantico, VA.

A graduate of Worcester Polytechnic Institute with a Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering, Lehane is a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

"We are very happy to have the breadth of new large construction experience that John Lehane adds to our organization," said Anthony Consigli, president. "The service and attention to detail he brings to our team will continue to serve our clients well, and expand our ability to provide the most comprehensive and focused construction management services in the marketplace."
