Integrated Builders completes 17,000 s/f project for Kraft Foods

November 11, 2010 - Spotlights

Integrated Builders has completed the conversion of a 17,000 s/f warehouse space into an office space for Kraft Foods.

"It was a fast-track project and was finished in about nine weeks," said Jay Dacey, president of Integrated Builders. "We're very pleased to successfully complete this project on time in a multi-tenanted building."

Integrated Builders was hired by Alexandria Real Estate Equities, Inc., the owner of the building, which is located at 111 Forbes Rd. Blvd. The new space will be occupied by Kraft Foods, a global powerhouse in snacks, confectionery and quick meals. Kraft Foods is the world's second largest food company, making products for billions of consumers in more than 160 countries.

Braintree-based ArchDesign served as architect for the project and Slatersville, R.I.-based EDS Engineering Design Services, Inc. provided engineering services.
