New enhanced navigation menu added to rejournal.com's homepages

January 09, 2008 - Front Section

There is now an enhanced navigation menu positioned on the left side of rejournal.com's regional homepages. The new menu system features easy access to the top content and most popular sections and pages the region has to offer. Now there are more options for navigating the website, you can use the drop down menu at the top of every page that encompasses links to everything on the website or you access top content and find what you're looking for even faster by using the new menu system on the left side of the homepages.

The new menu system has a "Featured Property" spot right at the top that showcases prime investment properties for all the high net worth investors out there. It also features a search box; this useful tool searches the whole of rejournal.com and displays results by order of relevance, ten per page. There are links to all 5 Star Categories, links to the Finance section and mortgage calculator. There is a Market Index chart with market updates and rates courtesy of 'theFinancials.com' as well as links to our Affiliated Publications, Subscriptions page and the "Billboard Online" classifieds sections. There are also links to our Auctions page and our Event Calendar and our Industry Links pages and Monthly Features pages

For more information about the new menu system or any other questions, comments, ideas or suggestions feel free to email me: dscott@rejournal.com or call: (781) 878-4540 x286 or (800) 654-4993 (outside MA) Mon. - Fri. 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
