Berns, an 11 year veteran of real estate, joins Campanelli Companies as asset manager

June 02, 2011 - Front Section

Campanelli Companies hired Jordan Berns as asset manager. Berns will work closely with the Campanelli asset management and development teams as they continue their steadfast pace on both the local and national level.

An 11 year veteran of the real estate industry, Berns previously worked as vice president of business development at Arch partners, vice president of acquisitions at Trammell Crow Company, a financial analyst with Trammell Crow Company and Cushman & Wakefield's investment sales groups and an analyst at Archon Group.

Berns brings to Campanelli his extensive knowledge in real estate acquisitions, asset management and real estate solutions. His experience includes the sale of over $2 billion in investment property, the active pursuit and acquisition of real estate opportunities for a $350 million private equity fund and asset management analysis for a $170 million New England portfolio.

"Jordan's unique background in both finance and real estate make him a perfect fit for Campanelli," said Mark Carroll, senior director of asset management at Campanelli. "As the company's acquisition and development activity continues to increase, we look forward to utilizing Jordan's expertise to make smart financial decisions as we seek to maximize returns for Campanelli and its partners."

Berns received his bachelor of science degree in International Finance from American University's Kogod School of Business. He currently resides in Brookline, Mass. with his wife and two children.

"I am honored to be a contributing team member of such a widely known and well respected real estate company," stated Berns. "I look forward to applying my knowledge and experience in the real estate industry as I advance my career under the exceptional senior partnership at Campanelli."
