King, Wagner and Chin join Woodard & Curran's board of directors

June 02, 2011 - Northern New England

Douglas Mc-Keown, CEO and chairman of the board of directors, said that former governor Angus King and business executives Bruce Wagner and Carolyn Chin have joined Woodard & Curran's board of directors.

McKeown said, "We are delighted and honored that these three individuals will serve on our board. Each brings experience that will help us achieve our strategic goals, meet our growth objectives, and support the unique culture we cherish here at Woodard & Curran."

King, two-term independent governor of Maine from 1995 to 2003, has 30 years of experience as an attorney and 20 years' experience in energy conservation and alternative energy. He is currently Of Counsel with Bernstein Shur of Portland, and is a lecturer at Bates College and Bowdoin College.

Bruce Wagner is president of Traverse CEO, providing executive management support to firms. He spent most of his career in executive management at WR Grace and is currently on the board of directors at the Mercy Health System of Maine.

Carolyn Chin is CEO of CeBiz, a consulting and investment firm. She has held executive positions with IBM, Reuters, Citibank, and AT&T. She served on the board of directors of CH2M Hill from 2003-2009 and was appointed a White House Fellow.
