Best Business - Riverbridge

June 23, 2011 - Retail

Riverbridge is a planned mixed-use village to be constructed in Berlin, Mass. The development site is located at the South Berlin rotary, where River Rd. West, Whitney Rd. and South St. converge. This 114-acre property will be constructed on 26 acres close to the roads and rotary, leaving 88 acres of undeveloped land surrounding the new village. The site is just outside Rte. 495 in Metro West Boston. The "495 Corridor" has seen tremendous growth and development over recent decades. Rte. 290, which runs from the Mass. Tpke. (Rte. 90) south of the City of Worcester eastward to its termination at Rte. 495, passes by the Riverbridge site just before the 290/495 interchange.
