Jones Lang LaSalle honored by IFMA Boston with 2011 Awards of Excellence for 99 High and EMD Serono projects

June 23, 2011 - Spotlights

The Boston chapter of the International Facility Management Association (IFMA), named the winners of the 2011 Awards of Excellence. Jones Lang LaSalle and building owner TIAA-CREF won for Sustainability Practices at 99 High in Boston. EMD Serono and Jones Land LaSalle were recognized in the Medium Project category for the EMD Serono Research Center project in Billerica.

Facilities Management Achievement Awards for Best Practices

These awards are presented to the individual or team whose facility management program, project, system, innovation, or idea has had a substantial, positive effect on the success of their organization. The recipient demonstrated how their project impacted business objectives and contributed to improved success. The award winners demonstrated innovation, and their achievements will be used to educate other facility management professionals. This award is intended to honor those who achieve "above and beyond" the normal scope of job responsibilities.

- * Sustainability Practices: TIAA-CREF (nominated by Jones Lang LaSalle)
- * Sustainability Existing LEED Principles: Biogen Idec (nominated by Nelson Black Cow)
- * Small Project (150,000 s/f): Ropes & Gray (nominated by Structure Tone, Inc.)

President's Award: Joy Shapiro, Diversified Project Management

The President's Award is given to a chapter member for his or her leadership and example to our industry as a whole.

Exemplary Service Provider Award: James Koloski, RDK Engineers

This award is presented to the representative of an associate member company in recognition of voluntary contributions to IFMA Boston. These contributions may include sponsoring programs or educational offerings, presenting innovative sessions on FM-related topics, sponsoring educational research or scholarships, providing technical assistance to members, or serving as chapter or council officers or committee members. Nominees must be associate members who recognize that IFMA is a forum for the interchange of ideas with members.

Distinguished End User: Chris Gilman, CFM, E Ink

The Distinguished End User Award is presented to a professional member of the Boston Chapter who has provided sustained, outstanding leadership to the chapter. This person is highly valued by his or her company, IFMA, and the facility management profession. This individual keeps current on changes in the facility management profession and educates other IFMA members and peers. Recipients demonstrate the best in leadership and ethics.
