Lincoln Property Company negotiates 11,222 s/f lease for Doble Engineering

November 23, 2011 - Front Section

Lincoln Property Company has negotiated a 11,222 s/f office lease on behalf of Doble Engineering, Inc.

Lincoln's vice president, Tim Latham and Kevin Malloy, formally a senior vice president at Lincoln, represented the tenant, Doble Engineering.

Rick Putrush, managing director, senior associates Victor Galvani and Matt Morgan of Parsons Commercial Group represented the landlord, Ferris Development.

Now in 110 countries, Doble Engineering helps clients in the electric power industry improve operations and optimize system performance.

The 85 year old firm required additional expansion space, as they relocated from within Marlborough. According to the firm's broker, Tim Latham, "after an extensive search, we were able to locate a facility which was a step-up in quality over their existing building and still offered substantial economic savings. Special thanks are deserved to the ownership at 325 Donald Lynch Boulevard and Parsons Commercial's Group who helped facilitate a quick transaction."
