Boylston Realty Advisors named listing agent/manager for Nobscot Shopping Center

November 23, 2011 - Retail

Boylston Realty Advisors will act as listing agent and property manager for the Nobscot Shopping Center. Boylston Realty is working with SUPERVALU Inc., a Fortune100 company and the third largest food supplier in the U.S., in the redevelopment, leasing and property management of the 46,000 s/f shopping center.

Jeff Bruk, who is spearheading the leasing activity, adds the support of an experienced team of senior level brokers to an aggressive leasing program that is now underway. Bruk said, "Boylston Realty is confident that we can attract new tenants to the center in order to set in motion a major renovation project. One that will bring new life to this community shopping center."

Boylston's Paul Kneeland will also be working with SUPERVALU, town officials and the brokerage team, on the redevelopment effort to transform the property into a vibrant community shopping center for the area.

Opportunities currently exist for businesses looking for 1,500 - 37,000 s/f of retail space, along with a free-standing pad site that can accommodate up to 2,400 s/f.
