Lee of Colliers International represents Transatlantic Investment Management, Inc. in 10,500 s/f lease to Intrepid Labs

November 30, 2011 - Front Section

Intrepid Labs has executed a new 10,500 s/f office lease for the entire fourth floor of the American Twine Office Park located at 222 Third St. Senior vice president Tad Lee of Colliers International represented landlord, Transatlantic Investment Management, Inc., in negotiations with Intrepid Labs. "The character of the building and the exposed brick and rafters within the space offer unique elements that directly mesh with our image and culture," said founder Mark Kasdorf of Intrepid Labs. "Colliers and Transatlantic were both very responsive and pleasant to deal with throughout the transaction. We couldn't be happier with the outcome."

"We believe that the space requirements of the modern knowledge worker span the range from traditional office to virtual office. We are excited to have Intrepid Labs as a tenant in our building, giving us the opportunity to offer a collaborative workspace option at a building that has a long history of providing the first 'home' for many startups," said Anthony Goschalk, president of Transatlantic.

American Twine Office Park is a four-story, 114,364 s/f office building located in the Kendall Sq. The location provides access to public transportation, shops, restaurants, hotels, as well as easy access to downtown Boston and Logan Airport. The building features a shared conference room, shower facilities, and an on-site caf  . The property is 100% leased.

About Intrepid Labs

Intrepid Labs is opening its doors on December 1, 2011 as an alternative work space for venture, seed, and post revenue companies. Intrepid caters to companies with 5 to 25 employees that need the flexibility to move out or double team size overnight. Everything is month to month with no long-term leases to ensure our clients are here because they want to be, not because they have to be. It is a co-working center with fast internet, plenty of conference rooms and phone booths, and great food.
