EnviroVantage hires Marcisso as vice president of sales and Prior joins to lead small cap market

March 01, 2012 - Owners Developers & Managers

EnviroVantage has added two new team members:

* Vincent Marcisso has been brought on-board as the new vice president of sales. Marcisso brings experience to the position, having formerly held the position of owner and president of Portland Diversified Service, a commercial prime sub contractor, operating out of Maine. A Maine native, Marcisso, whose background includes abatement, architectural drafting, industrial construction, nuclear power plants, off-shore oil drilling and professional diving, owned and operated PDS since 1988.

* Chris Prior has joined EnviroVantage to develop the "small cap markets" division of the company. Before joining EnviroVantage, Prior held positions with other construction firms and was the director of operations for a start-up company in Boston. He held a N.H. real estate license for 10 years and owned a commercial laundry facility. EnviroVantage will rely on Prior's strong business background to guide expansion in 2012.

EnviroVantage is a commercial and residential environmental and specialty services contractor who is a two time winner of Business of the Year.
