Brown and Fallon of Cassidy Turley FHO represent Genzyme in 82,490 s/f lease

April 05, 2012 - Front Section

Cassidy Turley FHO, handles a 82,490 s/f lease renewal at 55 Cambridge Parkway for Genzyme Corp. 55 Cambridge Parkway is a class A, 275,000 s/f facility, located along the Charles River. The 9-story building was constructed in 1985 and features on-site covered parking, a four-story atrium lobby and direct access to a variety of major transportation routes.

"Prominently located on the Charles River and offering unobstructed views of the Boston skyline, 55 Cambridge Parkway is a stunning facility," said John Miller, senior vice president of Lincoln Property Co. "From this building and others, Genzyme helped define the city of Cambridge as a global hub for innovation."

"We were happy to assist this cutting-edge company with its latest site selection process," said Mike Brown, senior managing director, principal at Cassidy Turley FHO. "Genzyme Corp. provides breakthrough medical therapies for patients with rare and unmet medical needs, and we hope our role in facilitating this lease agreement will continue to position this indispensable company for future success."

Brown and managing principal Joe Fallon of Cassidy Turley FHO's corporate advisory service group represented Genzyme. The landlord, Invesco, was represented by Miller of Lincoln Property Co.
