Dyer Brown named building architect of 53 State St.

December 20, 2012 - Construction Design & Engineering

Dyer Brown Architects was recently selected to be the building architect of 53 State St.

The 1.2 million s/f building, located in the Financial District on the corner of State and Congress Sts. Tenants of the 40-story, class A office and retail building include many of the city's high profile law firms, financial institutions, consulting firms and advertising firms.

"We are very excited to be partnering with 53 State's building owner and their leasing and management teams," said Dyer Brown Architects managing director, Roger Shepley. "This is an outstanding opportunity to work in this elite Boston property." 53 State Street - Boston, MA
