Lintermann joins Engelberth Construction

January 17, 2013 - Construction Design & Engineering

Mary Lintermann, PE has joined Engelberth Construction as director of business development. She brings sales and marketing experience to this role, as well as a background in engineering, development and business planning.

As director of business development, Lintermann is responsible for generating new project opportunities for Engelberth throughout northern New England. Her primary focus is on continued client relations, especially prior to, during and after construction.

Lintermann is a Licensed Professional Engineer (P.E.) and is a board member of GBIC (Greater Burlington Industrial Development Corp.), Dartmouth Regional Technical Center and recently left VELCO (Vermont Electric Company). She is also vice chair of the Vermont Economic Progress Council (VEPC) and a member of the Workforce Development Council.

Also, Ted Hirdler, LEED AP, has joined Engelberth as an estimator. Hirdler joins the preconstruction and estimating team and is responsible for providing detailed cost information for projects using Timberline Estimating, working on bids as well as providing value engineering, and constructability reviews for clients. Hirdler has in excess of 29 years experience in all phases of construction with extensive experience in all levels of estimating.
