ASIS Boston presents 2008 Security Expo on April 30th

March 06, 2008 - Owners Developers & Managers

Boston Chapter's Security EXPO 2008 promises to be the largest ever and best tradeshow in our chapter's history.

This year's theme, A Legacy of Leadership: Creating Great Strides for our Future, recognizes our past 50 years of educational excellence and our commitment to continue to provide our membership with the highest quality of educational programs.

This expo will give you new information, tools, and insight into the current issues we face as security and risk professionals. The seminars will all be presented by renowned and dynamic speakers inspiring all. We will have diverse panels, attendee participation and educational opportunities galore. This is an event no one wants to miss with critical networking, state of the art exhibits, and some special surprises. Come join your colleagues at a day jam packed with professional value and lots of fun.

The American Society for Industrial Security (ASIS) Boston chapter is pleased to offer "Security Expo 2008" on April 30th, at the Holiday Inn in Boxborough, Mass.

Take the time to mark your calendar now to ensure you take advantage of an excellent opportunity to:

- *Attend outstanding educational sessions with industry experts;
- *Meet the latest hardware and software vendors and get the latest updates;
- *Evaluate tools to make your job easier;
- *Take home answers to issues you're dealing with right now;
- *Network with new friends and solidify relationships with exsiting ones;
- *Participate in a raffle with incredible prizes; and
- *Enjoy a first-rate luncheon.

This is the premier security conference in New England and I hope to see you and/or members of your staff in attendance.
