In what way has the New England Real Estate Journal been a benefit to you and your business?
The New England Real Estate Journal is a great paper and very informative. It always provides the latest and most accurate news relative to the real estate industry. It has helped me provide my clients with the most up to date information. There have been several times that I have contributed articles and used the reports as collateral when making a business presentation. The NEREJ is proven and is here to stay. Thanks for the many years of great business coverage.
