Roberts joins JCS Construction Group

June 20, 2013 - Connecticut

According to JCS Construction Group Inc., a full-service general contractor and construction management firm, Mike Roberts has joined the team to lead their commercial project management division with a focus on ground-up developments.

"I am extremely pleased to welcome Mike to the team. He brings a wealth of knowledge and experience to our organization, which will take us to the next level in large scale ground up development. He knows the process from start to finish and has been a pleasure to watch work," said JCS president, Justin Shaw.

With more than 25 years of experience in construction, Roberts has been an integral part of the project management team at several local firms such as, Spinnaker Real Estate, RMS Construction, Southport Investments, and The Fieber Group. While at these firms, Roberts was responsible for projects valued from $10 million to $100 million dollars. This includes hospitality projects, multifamily developments up to 13 stories, mid-rise construction, and large subdivision home developments.
