Beltran joins Sasaki

June 20, 2013 - Construction Design & Engineering

Sasaki Associates has named Brigitte Beltran as director of business development.

In this role, Beltran will be creating long-term value for Sasaki's commercial architecture and interiors practice. She will partner with project teams, strengthen client relationships, and increase visibility for Sasaki in the Boston community.

Beltran brings extensive industry knowledge from her years in business development at architecture firm Burt Hill/Stantec in Boston, and later Miami, Florida. In Miami, she worked in a similar role at Arquitectonica, and later managed her own interior design practice.

Beltran holds a Certificate in Branding from Harvard University School of Design in Cambridge and a BS from Mount Ida College in Newton. She is a member of the American Society of Interior Designers (AISD), Commercial Real Estate Development Association (NAIOP), CoreNet Global, and the Commercial Brokers Association (CBA).

"As we advance our practice in creating innovative work spaces, Brigitte will help us better understand the needs and opportunities within Boston's commercial office market," said principal Elizabeth Meek. "Brigitte is working with clients to recognize the needs of today's workforce, helping Sasaki create integrated environments that enrich the lives of each space's users."
