Baranowski joins New England Retail Properties

June 27, 2013 - Retail

According to New England Retail Properties, Inc., Joseph Baranowski has recently joined their team.

Baranowski comes to New England Retail Properties, Inc. from Developers Realty Corporation in West Hartford, Conn. where he was hired in 1990 to do their leasing, but eventually became responsible for managing, renovating and leasing their entire portfolio of 35 centers and three million s/f of property.

In 2000, he was named president, chief operating officer and held that title until October, 2012. As COO he oversaw all legal, management, leasing and development. He was instrumental with developing and renovating several million square feet of property located in Texas, Pennsylvania, Virginia, North Carolina, Indiana, New York and Connecticut.

He graduated from Pace University with a BBA in Marketing/Management and an associates degree in General Business and has also received his CSM Designation.

Baranowski worked for several real estate development companies prior to his job at Developers Realty and New England Retail Properties.

At New England Retail Properties, Inc., he will be responsible for development and brokerage assignments throughout the East Coast.
