Celata named principal at BL Companies

March 20, 2008 - Connecticut

Robert Celata has been named a principal at BL Companies. Celata is director of architecture and building engineering and has more than 30 years of experience.

He has expanded the mechanical, engineering and plumbing department at BL Companies to provide services throughout the northeast. He will continue to showcase his experience in HVAC, construction administration, negotiation, client-project development and the budgetary process through the project review and design stages as well as to supervise and coordinate construction efforts.
