Up to Code: A Look at the New Statewide Energy Code

October 9, 2013

Time: 7:15 - 9 a.m.

At Atlantic Wharf Conference Center

280 Congress St., Boston, MA

This summer, Massachusetts adopted a new statewide energy code, the International Energy Conservation Code (IECC 2012). The new code represents a 20% increase in energy efficiency requirements and will affect significant renovations, as well as new development. Join us to hear in-depth information on the specific code changes, how the new code compares to the stretch energy code, and what the changes mean for development and building design

Moderator:

Finnbar O'Sullivan, project executive, John Moriarty and Associates

Panel:

James Kirby, president and CEO, Commercial Construction Consulting, Inc

David Hancock, principal, CBT Architects

Agenda: 7:30 - 8 a.m. Registration & Networking; 8 - 9 a.m. Program
