Wise completes three projects at Melrose Wakefield Hospital

March 20, 2008 - Construction Design & Engineering

Wise Construction Corp., a construction management firm specializing in the healthcare, biotechnology, education and corporate clients, has recently completed the conversion of three existing critical care areas into new cardiac and endovascular suites at Melrose Wakefield Hospital.

The new Cardiac and Endovascular Suites at Melrose Wakefield Hospital involved the conversion of three existing separate critical care suites into new cardiac and endovascular suites. Wise Const. also provided upgrades to all life safety systems and the build-out of 38 separate rooms to facilitate the suites' duties such as echo, EKG, nuclear medicine, radioactive lab procedure, control as well as various patients and staff support rooms.

Wise Const. worked in conjunction with the project design team of Levi Wong Design Associates.
