First job outside of real estate: Substantial Sunday paper route

First job in real estate or allied field: Residential house building and renovation and then moved on to sales

What do you do now and what are you planning for the future? Practice law primarily in the area of condominiums - not only the buying, selling and development, but mostly representing community associations once the projects have been completed i.e. governing document interpretation, resolution of unit owner/board disputes, association lending, construction defects, FHA certification. I hope to practice part time when I get older, teach and write the "Great American Novel"

How do you unwind from a busy day in real estate? Glass of my homemade wine

Favorite book or author: John Updike, John Irving and Nelson DeMille

Favorite movie: "Ferris Bueller's Day Off," "Good Will Hunting"

Last song you downloaded? Deacon Blues-Steely Dan

One word to describe your work environment: Challenging, but rewarding

Rules to live by in business: Treat people as you would like to be treated

What is your dream job? I'm doing it now
