Dapice of North Branch Construction named Passive House Institute of the U.S. Certified Builder

January 02, 2014 - Northern New England

Robert Dapice, LEED AP BD+C, project manager with North Branch Construction, Inc. is now a Passive House Institute of the United States (PHIUS) Certified Builder, making North Branch the first and only contractor in the state of N.H. with a PHIUS Certified Builder on staff.

The Passive House Building Energy Standard promoted by the PHIUS is one of the most rigorous building energy standards in the world. Those who have obtained the right through PHIUS to carry the graphic passive house logo and the PHIUS Certified Builder designation have committed themselves to design excellence and the passive house energy performance and quality criteria.
