North Branch Construction, Inc. appoints Campbell and Galbraith as principals

February 06, 2014 - Front Section

Project manager Joseph Campbell and project superintendent Christopher Galbraith have taken on roles as principals at North Branch Construction, Inc.

Campbell is a LEED AP BD+C and ASHE Certified Healthcare Constructor who has been with the firm for over 16 years. He began working at North Branch in the field during the summers in high school and continued on to an estimating internship with the firm during his time at New England College. Upon graduation in 2003, he became an assistant project manager at North Branch, and in 2005 he was given the role of project manager.

Galbraith began his career at North Branch in 2005 as a carpenter and in 2008 was promoted to the position of assistant project superintendent and finish carpentry crew supervisor. In 2012 Galbraith became a project superintendent leading jobs that include the interior fit-up of Fresenius Dialysis Clinic in Dover and the manufacturing plant upgrades at Sig Sauer in Exeter.
