JM Coull, Inc. hires Tessitore as assistant project manager and building information modeling coordinator

February 06, 2014 - Owners Developers & Managers

JM Coull, Inc. has hired Jason Tessitore as assistant project manager and BIM (Building Information Modeling) coordinator to support an increased volume of work and broader diversity in project type. Tessitore brings to JM Coull 13 years of experience working in construction administration and assistant project management and a strong background working with BIM technology.

Most recently working for Cutler Associates, Tessitore has previously worked at The Codman Company.

JM Coull is a construction management, design-build and general contracting firm specializing in new construction and renovations for the life sciences, advanced technology, education, and healthcare markets. The firm uses an integrated approach to project management and focuses attention on the early phases of a project, using its proprietary StartSmart process, to ensure overall success. The company works throughout New England from its headquarters in Maynard.
