State-Wide MLS launches RILivingCommercial.com

April 10, 2014 - Rhode Island

State-Wide Multiple Listing Service (MLS) has launched RILivingCommercial.com, a comprehensive online listing of commercial properties for sale or lease. Compiled from data from the Rhode Island Commercial Information Exchange (RICIE) - Rhode Island's most accurate database of commercial properties - RILiving Commercial is the first site of its kind dedicated to consumers interested in commercial properties in our market.

"Like its companion site, RILiving.com, RILivingCommercial.com obtains data directly from Realtor members through State-Wide MLS - in particular MLS's RICIE platform. Consumers therefore, have access to the most accurate and up-to-date information about commercial listings available anywhere," said State-Wide MLS president, John Silvia.

Whether investing, relocating or looking to start a company in Rhode Island or nearby areas, RILivingCommercial.com provides consumers with the property data, market information and professional resources needed to find available properties. Specifically, in addition to listing information, consumers can access information about Realtors with commercial real estate offerings, market statistics and trends, tax rates, and links to other online resources for Rhode Island businesses.

All Rhode Island Commercial Information Exchange member listings will appear on RILivingCommercial.com, though content will vary depending on level of membership. More information can be found on www.RILivingCommercial.com and www.RhodeIslandCIE.com.
