July 31, 2014 - Owners Developers & Managers

Watertown Mews (Mews), a 206-unit luxury rental apartment community located at 1 Repton Place, is a place where home meets hospitality and is now open. Inspired by the word "muse," meaning a source of inspiration, Watertown Mews offers 42 different floor plans so that you can "Find Your Mews."

Developed by Mill Creek Residential and managed by The Bozzuto Group, Watertown Mews is located close to Boston and Cambridge and offers the highest level of quality, customer service, and care.

"The first thing everyone says when they walk in and see what the Mews has to offer is 'wow,'" said Trenda Wallace, community manager at the Watertown Mews. "We're proud to offer great amenities, a convenient location, and apartment options that go above most people's expectations. More importantly, we strive every day to make our residents our top priority as they are the ones who truly make the Mews home."

The 100% smoke-free environment features all the things you consider in high-end urban living: Stone countertops, custom cabinetry, stainless appliances, high ceilings, and open floor plans. Boasting a tremendous amenity package, residents of the Mews enjoy a beautiful outdoor saltwater pool and free outdoor parking. Inside the community's clubhouse, a fitness studio with the latest in cardio and strength fitness, a group fitness/yoga room, free Wi-Fi, multiple flat screen televisions, a game room, and high-tech contemporary design throughout allow renters to feel inspired in style. Watertown Mews has already successfully rented 84 of its 206 available units, with 32 affordable units also available and renters were chosen last month.

Recognized as one of the Top 3 Builders in Multifamily Executive's Top 50 List for 2013, Mill Creek's portfolio comprised 29 communities totaling nearly 10,000 apartment homes that were operating or under construction.
