Good work and good ideas: Banquet to recognize volunteers

November 06, 2014 - Owners Developers & Managers

CAI wants to celebrate their members' accomplishments, unique programs and community activities and applaud those volunteers and industry professionals alike who have contributed to their success. The annual chapter banquet will be held on Friday, March 13, 2015 at the Marriott Hotel in Burlington, Mass.

Taking guests back to the golden age of the roaring 20's, this year's banquet will feature speakeasy theme, casino and other entertainment reminiscent of the day. The social event of the year will spotlight the achievements of New England associations and the individual contributions of volunteers and professionals from around the chapter. Award winners will be announced and recognized at the banquet and their stories published in a Condo Media magazine cover story.

The committee is seeking nominations in the following award categories:

Special Events:

A specific event, such as a community festival, annual barbeque, yard sale, holiday party, spring or fall celebration, etc. that brings residents together and fosters community spirit and inclusiveness.

Landscape/Community

Beautification:

Improvements or activities that boost or enhance the community's curb appeal.

Going Green

Programs that seek to utilize renewable energy alternatives, for example solar panel installations, cogeneration system upgrades, etc. or that implement green practices in the community and reduce the association's carbon footprint or energy use, for example recycling programs, energy-saving window installation, etc.

Communication

An effective association communication tool that could include an association website, blog or newsletter, that has engaged association members in dialogue with each other, as well as with association board members and management.

Creative Solutions

Residents, volunteers, management and/or business partners who pull together to improve their community and/or solve a problem with little or no funding required.

Association Volunteer
of the Year

Recognizing an individual whose volunteer efforts ensure that the best interests of their association are served and who seeks out opportunities to improve their association and community.

Community Association
Manager of the Year

Awarded to that community association manager nominated for going above and beyond the call of duty in their efforts to furthering the goals and objectives of their client associations.

Service Professional
of the Year

An industry professional providing exemplary service to community associations and whose actions are consistently courteous and respectful of board members' and homeowners' concerns and comments. Individuals nominated in this category may provide professional services or deliver a product or service to community associations.

Contact ccarini@caine.org for a nomination form or online at www.caine.org. Nomination deadline, January 31, 2015.
