Curley joins Cummings Properties as leasing officer

November 13, 2014 - Front Section

David Curley has joined Cummings Properties as a leasing officer.

Curley is a Bates College graduate. He was previously a commercial real estate broker with O'Brien Commercial Properties, Inc.

"It's an exciting time to be in commercial real estate as demand for premium space, such as labs, increases in the suburbs," said Curley. "I was drawn to Cummings Properties because of its many years of economic success, community support, and employee and client longevity. I am energized to work for an industry leader."

As a member of the leasing team, Curley works with clients to find the commercial space that fits their needs in the Cummings Properties portfolio, which includes four major suburban business campuses—Cummings Park and TradeCenter 128 in Woburn and Cummings Center and 50 Dunham Rd. in Beverly.

"David's education, competitive spirit, and tireless work ethic make him a perfect complement to the team," said leasing manager Ed Silvey. "His previous experience as a commercial broker affords him the unique ability to appreciate transactions from all sides, which makes him a valuable asset."

Cummings Properties' 10 million s/f of prime space accommodates executive offices, healthcare facilities, laboratories, retail storefronts, warehouses, and more. With a portfolio of this size and variety, the firm can meet almost any commercial real estate need, from 150 s/f to 300,000 s/f. Its in-house experts in design, construction, and property management offer "one-stop shopping" for leasing clients.
