What are your predictions for commercial real estate in 2015? - John Connor of Vantage Builders

December 24, 2014 - Spotlights

We anticipate another busy year, probably even busier than 2014. If you look out the windows of our Waltham office you would literally see cranes in every direction. It's a great sight! There is clearly more confidence in the economy, as we've noticed an increase in the number of projects of all sizes, from renovations to building additions to ground-up construction. We're excited to see what the new year brings.
