What was your most notable deal or transaction in 2014? - Carlton Cooper of Eldorado Stone

December 24, 2014 - Spotlights

The new Wegmans grocery store in Burlington, Mass. This project required a lot of coordination of production timing, delivery and ability for the mason to work around multiple other trades to accomplish the install in the required time. It had its small hiccups but overall turned out very well. Wegmans held their grand opening last month and the stone veneer both inside and out looks great. We are currently working on the next one at University Station in Westwood, Mass.
