Vantage Builders, Inc. hires Price as project manager

January 29, 2015 - Front Section

Vantage Builders, Inc., a general contracting and construction firm, has hired Mark Price as project manager. A construction and property management veteran with more than 25 years' experience, Price will be responsible for managing projects for the firm's commercial, educational, medical, retail and life sciences construction clients.

"Mark has extensive experience that will be a direct benefit to our clients as he counsels them during their construction projects," said John Connor, principal, Vantage Builders. "He has successfully completed projects - from tenant fit-ups to major, ground-up construction - for clients in a wide range of industries."

Prior to joining Vantage Builders, Price was a project manager at JDL Corporate Interiors, where he also provided training and mentoring for the firm's assistant project managers. Previously, he held project management roles with the Matthews Group and Commodore Builders. He has completed projects for an impressive list of clients including Bentley University, the New York Life Insurance Company, ARIAD Pharmaceuticals and Boston Properties.

He has completed certificate programs in Building & Construction Technologies and Property Management from Northeastern University and holds a Commonwealth of Massachusetts Construction Supervisor License. He is an active volunteer with the Huntington Avenue YMCA's Metro Boston basketball program.
