Dawson joins Tighe & Bond as a senior project manager

February 05, 2015 - Owners Developers & Managers

William Dawson has joined Tighe & Bond as a senior project manager.

A civil engineer, Dawson brings 32 years of experience in water and wastewater system improvements and construction administration services to Tighe & Bond clients. During this time, he has served a wide range of New England municipalities and water suppliers. His expertise includes the study, design, permitting, construction administration and start-up of building and infrastructure facilities for numerous water distribution, wastewater collection and treatment systems. Over his career, Dawson has been involved with the design and construction of more than 20 municipal water and wastewater treatment facilities.

"Bill is a welcome addition to our expanding full service Portsmouth office, which has seen substantial growth over the past four years," said David Pinsky, president and CEO of Tighe & Bond. "Bill's professional credentials, and substantial knowledge of the region's water resources, infrastructure, and facilities strengthens our ability to provide unparalleled service to our clients. His experience will help us with our growth initiatives into Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont."

A resident of Cumberland, ME, Dawson earned his bachelor of science in Civil Engineering from the University of Maine at Orono. He is also a member of the Maine Water Utilities Association.

Founded in 1911, Tighe & Bond is one of the most experienced engineering firms in New England, with offices in Pocasset, Westfield, and Worcester, Mass.; Middletown and Shelton, Conn.; and Portsmouth, N.H.

Engineering News Record annually ranks Tighe & Bond among the top design and environmental engineering firms nationally. ZweigWhite also has recognized Tighe & Bond several times as one of the best engineering firms to work for in the nation.

With a team of more than 250 employees, Tighe & Bond provides engineering and environmental services for clients in government, industry, healthcare, education, real estate, energy, and water/wastewater markets.
