H.A. Fisher Homes partners with Cardi's Furniture for Reynolds Farm

April 09, 2015 - Rhode Island

According to Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage in New England, H.A. Fisher Homes and Cardi's Furniture have partnered to furnish three model homes at Reynolds Farm. Reynolds Farm is a community of more than 200 homes that is being created off of Post Rd. It is designed and built by H.A. Fisher Homes, Rhode Island's exclusive woman-centric homebuilder.

The first three model homes of Reynolds Farm, which are scheduled to open this month, are being furnished by Cardi's Furniture, a premier furniture store in Southern New England. In addition, Cardi's is offering exclusive design services for homebuyers of Reynolds Farm.

"We are thrilled to partner with Cardi's. Not only do we respect their successful family business, we appreciate that they have fully embraced the Woman-Centric design concept of Reynolds Farm. In addition to providing furniture for the model homes, Cardi's is offering exceptional service to our homebuyers. This will include expert guidance from a Cardi's professional, specific to the home style the buyers choose in Reynolds Farm," said Hugh Fisher, founder and president of H.A. Fisher Homes.

When it is completed, Reynolds Farms will include a mix of single-family homes, single-level condominiums and live-work townhomes that will range in size from 1,500 to 2,100 s/f. Reynolds Farm is one of the largest developments to be undertaken in the state of Rhode Island in the last 50 years.

Reynolds Farm is exclusively marketed by The Stone Alliance, a top-producing sales team affiliated with the Coldwell Banker Residential Brokerage office in Warwick.
