Clark of Connecticut Commercial Realty leases 1,300 s/f to Edward Jones at Somers Crossing

June 18, 2015 - Connecticut

The Somers office of Connecticut Commercial Realty & Select Homes has completed the lease of a 1,300 s/f space at Somers Crossing, located at 95 South Rd. in the Geissler's Supermarket plaza.

The new tenant, a branch of the investment firm, Edward Jones, plans to open this spring. Broker Victoria Clark of Connecticut Commercial Realty & Select Homes represented the landlord while the new tenant was represented by Stephanie Cabral of Colliers International in this transaction.

This new branch will be managed by Financial Advisor Gennaro Ferrentino who is anxious to start building a relationship with the people of the Somers community. Nationally renowned Edward Jones, founded in 1922, is a full-service brokerage firm and a private partnership; they believe this structure gives them the independence to make sound, long-term decisions in the best interest of their clients. Their practice of offering community-based, neighborhood locations, such as this new branch in Somers, makes them easily accessible and approachable.

Connecticut Commercial Realty and Select Homes is a family-owned and operated company with brokerage in Conn. and Mass. and has offices at 199 Broad St. in New London and 612 Main St. in Somers. The firm operates divisions in residential and commercial real estate brokerage, as well as certified appraisal, auction and management services.
