Fort Point Project Management hires Ryan and Marshall as associate project managers

July 02, 2015 - Owners Developers & Managers

According to Fort Point Project Management (Fort Point PM), a provider of real estate project management and relocation services, Christine Ryan and Tim Marshall have joined the firm as associate project managers.

In this role, Ryan will apply her knowledge of architecture and background in project management to provide planning, scheduling, and project execution to clients who are relocating/renovating their offices. Ryan holds a master of architecture from Wentworth Institute of Technology.

Marshall's experience managing daily facilities operations and providing detailed event planning and scheduling ensures the delivery of seamless project and move coordination to clients in the corporate and biotechnology sectors.

The addition of Ryan and Marshall fortifies the firm's ability to provide project and move management services to businesses rethinking existing spaces and relocating to new ones. Fort Point PM has added 8 project managers since November 2014, and was recently recognized as a "Pacesetter" by The Boston Business Journal for the second year in a row: an award given to the fastest growing privately held companies in Massachusetts. ### About Fort Point Project Management Fort Point Project Management is a leading provider of project management and relocation management services for lab, academic, healthcare and corporate projects.
