Breakfast with the Experts: Reviewing Your Report - September 24

July 09, 2015 - Appraisal & Consulting

Have you ever wondered what a team of expert appraisers would say about your reports? You want every report that leaves your office to be complete and accurate. How do you accomplish a thorough review of your report when you are a solo practitioner or don't have proofreading resources? MBREA's upcoming Breakfast with the Experts, on September 24 at 8 a.m. at Four Points by Sheraton Hotel 1125 Boston Providence Tpke., brings together a panel of seasoned appraisers who will share their best practices and procedures for reviewing their work before it is sent to the client. They are positive you will leave the breakfast with several ideas for writing reports that will wow your clients. The panel includes commercial and residential solo practitioners and appraisal company managers.

The panel of experts includes:

- * Jonathan Asker, RA
- * Gary Minnehan, RA
- * William Pastuszek, MRA
- * Steven Spangle, MRA

Some of the specific report review practices we will discuss include:

- * Consistency and logic
- * Spelling & grammar checks
- * Verifying mathematical calculations
- * The dangers of cloning
- * Creating effective templates
- * Addendum contents and completeness
- * Photos and exhibits
- * Resources for solo practitioners
- * Designations and peer reviews
- * Appraisal software scrubbers
