Marlborough, MA JLL has completed a 46,061 s/f lease to long-standing Worcester company Babcock Power Sales Inc. at Lake Williams Center, 26 Forest St. The space will serve as a new location for the firm's power services and power environmental business units. JLL negotiated the transaction on behalf of property owner Great Point Investors, investment manager for its client the New England carpenters combined benefit funds. Babcock Power was represented by Kelleher & Sadowsky Associates.

Babcock Power, a world leader in delivering single-source solutions to power producers and utilities, will be relocating from 5 Neponset St. in Worcester. Occupancy is scheduled for this May.

Lake Williams Center is a 210,000 s/f first class corporate office campus.

"We are excited to move to this new location," said Earl Mason, business segment CFO of Babcock Power. "This move will enable us to accommodate our customers effectively and efficiently, and provide our staff with a state-of-the-art working environment."

JLL managing director Phil DeSimone and assistant vice president Rob Mahoney represented Great Point Investors in the lease negotiations. Principals Don Mancini, Jim Umphrey and vice president Drew Higgins of Kelleher & Sadowsky represented Babcock Power.

"We're thrilled to welcome global firm Babcock Power to Lake Williams Center" said JLL's Rob Mahoney. "They are a dynamic company with a long and respected heritage here in New England and throughout the world. The space, which spans the entire third floor and boasts an impressive atrium, first class amenity package and expansive views, is the perfect fit for their new headquarters location. Adding to this, Marlborough's strong employment demographics, vibrant business community, and ample nearby amenities will be a great benefit in the recruitment and retention of their employees."

Built in 2001, Lake Williams Center is a premier, class A campus with impeccably maintained office space easily accessible from I-495 and the Mass Pike/I-90 in Marlborough. This modern campus provides flexible office space perfect for a wide range of user types including software and high-tech, healthcare/medical, financial services, professional services, and business services. It offers all of the amenities today's workforce demands: a full-service, on-site cafeteria; an on-site fitness center with showers and lockers; a lounge and conference facility; outdoor patio spaces with seating; renovated lobbies, and connectivity certified by WiredScore.
