IBEW Local 96 and Central Mass. NECA introduce small works agreement

August 25, 2017 - Front Section

Worcester, MA IBEW Local 96 and the Central Massachusetts Chapter of the National Electrical Contractors Association (NECA) have introduced a small works agreement that will enhance the union electrical industry in this region to compete more favorably with non-union electrical contractors on facilities that do not exceed 50,000 s/f or four stories in height. Applicable properties and projects include: office buildings, shopping centers, auto dealerships and garages, churches, nursing homes, hotels, retail and wholesale facilities, educational facilities, manufacturing facilities, solar projects (500 panels or less), lighting retrofits, warehouses, gas stations, residential buildings, restaurants, entertainment facilities, hospitals, and medical clinics. This agreement enables contractors to utilize journeymen electrician wage rates that are the most competitive in the electrical industry.

Through this agreement, IBEW Local 96 and NECA Central Mass. contractors are able to deliver their highly skilled labor force that implements safety procedures that are the strongest in the industry to projects throughout Worcester and Central Massachusetts at rates that are competitive with non-union shops.
