The Brant Flats and The Essex Townhomes now sold out at Sconset Landing in Hanover

September 01, 2017 - Front Section

Hanover, MA Sconset Landing continues to be in high-demand, recently The Brant Flats and The Essex Townhomes have sold out, with only three residences remaining in Phase I. In addition to this recent success, Nickerson Real Estate Partners (Nickerson RE), the exclusive sales team behind Sconset Landing, continues to manage active demand for Phase II of the 130-unit condominium and townhome development, where sales are also progressing swiftly.

“We are extremely pleased with the demand we are seeing at Sconset Landing,” said Lisa Nickerson, CEO & Founder of Nickerson RE. “The sales success can be directly attributed to the beautiful, quality construction of these highly appealing and efficient homes, coupled with the project’s location nestled on a nearly 60-acre property that is perfectly situated for convenience and ease of commute.”

Located off of Rte. 53, within a private wooded setting, Sconset Landing offers a maintenance-free lifestyle that meets the needs of all types of buyers. Offering a variety of floorplans, residences feature oak hardwood flooring, granite counters, Energy Star kitchen appliances and direct outdoor access through private deck, balcony or terrace.

Remaining residences in Phase I include three 1,470 s/f two-bedroom, two-bathroom layouts within The Gardner Flats. Featured finishes consist of GE Energy Star stainless steel appliances, gas fireplace, generous closet space, one-car garage and picturesque views of the adjacent scenic wooded landscape.

Phase II of Sconset Landing consists of two distinguished styles of townhomes, known as The Lexington and The Brock. The Lexington is a 2,030 s/f, two-bedroom and two-and-a-half-bathroom style townhouse with two-car garage, while The Brock ranges in size from 2,300 to 2,400 s/f, with three-bedrooms, two-and-a-half-bathrooms and two-car garage. All townhomes in Phase II feature a walk-out basement.

Offering a range of full-service amenities, Sconset Landing features “The Landing,” an award-winning clubhouse, equipped with a catering kitchen, entertainment room and planned fitness area. Residents also enjoy insider access to the neighborhood’s top businesses including Smileboston South Shore, Harmon Golf & Fitness and the Norwell Athletic Club.
